

LIZ GARST: BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Liz Garst is a banker, natural resources advocate and farm manager. She is the granddaughter of Roswell and Elizabeth Garst. Ms. Garst received her MBA from Harvard Business School, her MS in Agricultural Economics from Michigan State University, and her BA from Stanford. She is active in conservation, rural development and civil liberties organizations, and currently serves on the boards of the Iowa Natural Resources Commission, Whiterock Conservancy and the Coon Rapids Development Group. As a young girl during Khrushchev's visit, her photograph with him was featured in LIFE Magazine.
